HART RANSOM IS DEMANDED

PARR FIRM WINS VICTORY

COMPROMISE ON TERMINAL LEASE SEEN

VICTORY for the Parr-Richmond Terminal corporation, defending its lease of a portion of its facilities here to Dried Fruit Shippers, Inc., was virtually assured following closing of a hearing before the state railroad commission in San Francisco late yesterday afternoon.

M. B. Harris, state railroad commission member who is hearing the case, yesterday ordered that written briefs be submitted in the case.

In so ordering, however, Harris assured the Parr people of victory, declaring that he had decided from evidence presented to him that a portion of Terminal No. 3 is no longer being used as a public utility.

As a result of Harris' statement it was learned from an unimpeachable source late yesterday that terminal operators will probably hold a conference and reach an understanding on the matter.

No decision is expected from the railroad commission for at least (Continued on Page 7)

AMERICAN IS HELD REBEL BY CUBANS

HAVANA, Nov. 10.—UP.—One American citizen was held among the rebel prisoners at Camp Columbia today for court martial in connection with abortive revolution this week against the government of President Ramon Grau San Martin, according to unofficial reports.

The newspaper El Pais said that the American was Humberto Allen, born in Cuba, the son of E. N. Allen, long in business here. The paper published his name in a list of rebel prisoners held at the army headquarters for trial.

Mersey Asked

Waiting women besieged military authorities in a pitiful plea for leniency and mercy as the government began its court martial of rebels.

Death sentences were expected in most cases. However, only the leaders of the attempt to overthrow the government of President Ramon Grau San Martin will be shot, the United Press was informed. The rest of the sentences will be commuted.

Bodies Sought

Hundreds of other weeping men and women thronged to the emergency hospitals and morgues seeking to identify relatives shot down in the two days of fighting which ended with the government's capture of the rebel stronghold at Atares fortress, on the outskirts of Havana.

The know dead reached 130, with unofficial reports indicating 60 others had been killed, bringing the probable total dead to 190. The final count was expected to pass 200 with hundreds severely wounded.

No Executions

The newspaper El Pais published the names of 240 prisoners at Camp Columbia today.

Car Industry Is Complying With Code

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—UP.—Reports on hours and wages indicate that all automobile makers are complying with the industry's code, the NRA said tonight.

Henry Ford, only automobile maker who has not signed the code, was not mentioned, but it was assumed he was included because of his promise to submit such information to the automobile chamber of commerce, which assembled the data.

Wage scales will not be made public, the NRA said, and it has not been decided whether working hours would be divulged.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Weston of Havana, Cuba, are visiting relatives in Richmond. Weston is here from the Island on a leave of absence.

MAN HUNT IS STARTED FOR KIDNAPPERS

SAN JOSE, Nov. 10.—UP.—The partition of justice agents and police waited quietly tonight for kidnapers of Brooke Hart, 22, son of a wealthy San Jose merchant, to reopen negotiations for the $10,000 ransom demanded for Hart's release.

They were elaborately prepared to pounce upon the first clue offered in California's only major kidnapping since 1928.

Sheriff William E. Smith of Santa Clara county dispatched deputies to search ranch houses, cabins and other places in the wood hill section near here where Hart might be held.

Discredit Fugitive Story

The sheriff said he believed that Hart had been kidnapped and had not eloped or disappeared voluntarily for any other reason.

He said that a teletype message to Reno, asking authorities there to look out for the wealthy youth, was sent through the office of Chief of Police Bland.

"I have no evidence to support a theory that Hart eloped," said the sheriff. "I don't think he would have done it that way, anyhow."

Early referred to the abandonment of Hart's expensive automobile headlights burning, on the Evans road near Milpitas.

Hart had not obtained a marriage license tonight either at Reno or Carson City, Nev.

Pittsburg's New Postoffice to Cost $68,000

The policy embraced a plan to erect needed postoffices of a "sensible utilitarian character instead of the monumental edifices" built in past years.

The California postoffices to be erected include:

Inglewood, $107,000; Torrance $63,800; Redondo Beach, $73,700; Huntington Beach, $52,800; Woodland $69,000; Madera, $50,600; Claremont, $51,700; Hollywood $214,500; Redwood City, $66,600; Oceanside $55,000; Orange, $64,900; La Jolla, $59,400; Bell, $38,300; Colton, $57,200; Santa Paula $52,800; Salinas $83,600; San Gabriel $57,200; El Monte, $43,500; Turlock $63,800; San Fernando, $72,600; Pittsburg $68,200; San Rafael $64,900; Compton $77,900.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—UP.—A new trial for Mrs. Marion Y. Read's alienation of affections suit against Claire Windsor, film actress, was granted by Judge Joseph Sprout today in a decision setting aside the $75,000 jury verdict returned at the original trial.

The verdict based on the Oakland socialist's charges that Miss Windsor won away the love of Alfred C. Read, Jr., young broker, was declared "grossly excessive" by Judge Sprout.

It indicated, he said, that the jurors were swayed by "passion and prejudice."

The court also recognized Miss Windsor's claim that new evidence had been uncovered since the first trial, conducted several months ago.

Miss Windsor's defense to the suit was that Read told her he was single when he began paying attention to her in 1931. Later, he admitted he was married but was about to seek a divorce, she said.

Mrs. Read's suit asked damages of $100,000. She alleged that Read was devoted to her and their two children until he met the actress. Before the trial, she obtained a divorce from Read.

Junior High Students Have Program Meet

Armistice Day was observed yesterday at a program meeting held at the Longfellow school, under the direction of the principal, Herbert L. Hunt.

Dr. A. J. Case, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, and a former regular army chaplain, was speaker of the day. Dr. Case showed slides of pictures he took while in France. These pictures showed war scenes and life among the French.

The children of the school participated in community singing of "The Road is Open Again."

Mrs. M. Kiraly closed the program with singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Roses of Picardy."

Eighteen of Ship Crew Die at Sea

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A ship of death rode into the harbor today manned by only four men. Eighteen members of the crew of the Swedish steamer Elsie had died off the coast of West Africa. They were stricken by malaria.

TOOLS TAKEN

Tools and other material valued at $20 were stolen from a cabin formerly owned by the late Captain A. H. Austin, police was informed last night. Entrance was forced by breaking the hasp on the door.

DRIVER HELD AFTER CRASH ON BARRETT

A four-year old Richmond boy is at Hospital Richmond in a serious condition as the result of an automobile accident at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The injured boy is Michael Madden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Madden, of 2125 Barrett avenue. The child suffered a fractured skull, cuts, bruises and internal injuries.

Attaches at Hospital Richmond last night declared that the boy had only a "fifty-fifty" chance to recover.

Playing in Street

According to police reports, the Madden boy and two other playmates were playing in the street when they decided to cross Barrett avenue.

At that moment a car driven by Adrian Newman, 2523 Clinton avenue approached the scene.

Child Struck

Newman later told police that he saw the two children and that he threw on his brakes in an effort to stop the car. He declared he just missed hitting two of the boys, and his car crashed into the Madden child.

The injured boy was removed to Hospital Richmond by Newman and the father of the child.

Driver Booked

At the hospital he was treated by Dr. K. O. Dalley, who pronounced his condition as "grave."

Police investigating the accident booked Newman on charges of failure to have an operator's license on his person. He was released on his own recognizance pending hearing in the local police court.

Bank Teller of American Trust Ends His Life

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—In the vault of the American Trust company branch at University and San Pablo avenues, Robert L. Smith, 35, commercial teller committed suicide this morning.

He shot himself through the chest as he stood in the vault shortly before opening time. The gun he used was that furnished by the bank for use in possible robberies.

There was no shortage in Smith's accounts. J. C. Green, the branch bank manager, told police. The only apparent motive for the suicide discovered by police was the fact that Smith had undergone a nervous breakdown some months ago.

Smith reported for work as usual this morning and took his money and the revolver from the vault. He arranged his cash in his drawer and returned to the vault, carrying the gun. No notes were found.

Morrison Will Battle Ended In Bay Courts

OAKLAND, Nov. 10.—Superior Judge Church of Oakland today brought the estate fight which has been in the courts since the death of Leon Morrison in 1921 to its final phases when he approved an accounting of the estate, which has dwindled from $100,000 to $34,000.

The residue will go to five Polish cousins, Maud Marian Scott, former employee of Morrison and claimant to his fortune through a will attacked as a forgery, will receive nothing.

Among the claims approved was one for $500 to Oscar Tasmussen, private detective, who proved the will under which Miss Scott would have received the fortune a forgery and who secured evidence which sent two men who testified for her to San Quentin prison for perjury.

Kentucky Girl Is Named Sheriff

CADIZ, Ky., Nov. 10.—Unopposed in the Tripp county election, Miss Lurline Humphries of Cadiz is the first woman ever elected Sheriff in Kentucky. In the Democratic primary in August she won by a 2373 majority.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Those closest to the President say that the more big business fights the New Deal, the more inclined he is to move Left. He feels that industry has done little to help itself, but now that it tastes the first bite of recovery, it wants the whole mouthful. — Secretary of State Hull is fond of playing croquet and is a good bet to trim all comers. It passed almost unnoticed in the United States, but just before the break-up of the Geneva disarmament Conference, Premier Daladier made a tentative proposal to Germany that France would reduce her continental army to the 200,000 specified under the MacDonald plan. — Whereupon Foreign Minister Beck of Poland warned in effect: "If you want to do that, go ahead, but you do it without Poland."—Such a furor was created among Frenchmen when this leaked out that the proposal was dropped. WAR PLANS

One thing worrying Far Eastern experts is that Roosevelt's move for closer relations with Russia will cause the Japanese to attack Siberia sooner than expected. Secret war plans seized from the Japanese show they hope to penetrate Siberia after the Spring thaw. They can hardly operate before then. Three divisions of Japanese troops are on the Soviet border.—Samuel J. Gompers, 65-year old son of the great labor leader, has served many years as (Continued on Page 3)

Large Crowd Sees Junior High Drama

Before what is believed to have been a record crowd, students of the Roosevelt Junior high school last night presented an amusing two-act drama "A Scream in the Dark."

The play was given at the Lincoln school auditorium which was crowded literally "to the rafters." "Standing room only" signs were posted and late comers were forced to stand outside the building and look in through the open doors.

The play, which was a mystery comedy, was brilliantly acted by the students who played their roles in a manner that earned them well-merited applause.

Miss Margaret Skinner directed the cast which included Frances Neville, Don Collins, Lucille Brackett, Jeanne Hawkins, William Stoker, Beatrice DeLaney, Elvin Nicholson, John Wilkins and Billy Redmond.

Man Teacher Is Fired for Petting

EASTON, Nov. 10.—In a decision handed down at midnight following four hours of testimony by school girls and teachers the trustees of the Washington Union high school here formally discharged A. S. Hartman, biology teacher for the last eight years. Charges were made that Hartman "petted girl students on the hips, shoulders and arms" and slapped a woman teacher unconscious.

Mrs. S. E. Ellis' Sylvia's King, given No. 1 box, makes a third attempt to crash into the victory column tonight when this $2500 greyhound races in the Liberty Stake, a special eight-dog match field, feature of the Armistice night program at El Cerrito Kennel club track. It's a tough assignment, too, for Sylvia's King must meet Ben Andrews, Gold Collar, champion of Baden; Traffic Court, holder of the El Cerrito track record; Dancing Officer, Crafty Boy, Van Dieman and Lucky Roll. Twice previously Sylvia's King has been outfooted in these features, but the starting box may add considerably tonight.

Fireworks, a girlie Hot Cha Revue and a free public dance in the clubhouse offer extra features on the big card at El Cerrito. The trophy race, listed as Armistice Derby, promises a big thrill over the grueling 7-16 mile course when Ego, Red Robe, Beauty Shop, Rotary Girl, and Sam Magee, previous winners in this long gallop, come together for the first time with five other stout runners.

Top Notch, who won three in a row a week ago, upset the apocryphal, returning $96.80 on preferreds in the seventh race Friday at El Cerrito. Master Spark in No. 1 box looked like the best bet of the night, but he couldn't make it. Likewise, smart money was upset when Nina, also in No. 1, ran fourth in the sixth race. Both Nina and Master Spark had many wise men aboard.

STAGG REFUSES TO BE SCARED
OF ST. MARY'S

STOCKTON, Nov. 9. (UP)—Alonso Stagg, dean of American college football coaches, stopped in the midst of his work today to check up on himself and admit he is a changed man since he came to College of Pacific from the University of Chicago to start life over again.

Gray-haired Stagg, tanned a fine brown by the California sun, quickly outlined his impressions, as follows:

He finds an absence of intellectual and social snobbery in the far west.

Wives of faculty members in College of Pacific seem to delight in doing their own house work.

Coaching conditions are much the same in small colleges as in larger institutions.

Much to his amazement, a big percentage of his football players cook their own meals—and good ones—to cut down college expenses.

Chicago sportswriters, who knew Stagg as the man who annually feared Purdue in the days when Purdue was nothing at all to fear, will be astonished to learn that the "old man" is unable to work up an iota of fear for St. Mary's College, the team which beat Fordham 13 to 6 last week in New York.

Stagg's lighter team will play St. Mary's here Saturday in a feature Armistice Day game.

"We refuse to worry a bit but we are working hard," said Stagg. "David slew Goliath and perhaps he got a break. Maybe we will get a break Saturday."

Big Bill Ijams, tackle, was the athlete who broke the news to Stagg that his men are at home in a kitchen.

"I met Ijams on the campus and stopped to chat," Stagg related. "I noticed Bill was fidgety. Finally, he said, 'You'll have to excuse me, Coach. I've got to go over and cook something for some of the boys.'"

Stagg chuckled, as he added: "They are all right. I never knew one in Chicago to do that kind of a thing."

Stagg was working with 20 or 40 men at practice. His chief worries were developing a defense against powerful St. Mary's. Injuries had taken from him, Truck and Easterbrook, and he was trying to "invent a pair of ends" from available material.

"Coaching conditions are much the same here as at Chicago," he said. "In Chicago, I always worked with small groups. However, I had plenty of help on the midway and a limited amount here."

As for himself—Stagg said that after a morning game of tennis with his son, Paul, he felt as fit as a fiddle.

Stagg's club, the National Gun Club, will hold a target shoot at the Los Angeles museum, plans to find ancient Indian ruins, undiscernible to persons on the ground, by conducting an extensive aerial survey in the Southwest.

Auto Classic
On Sunday to Attract Crowd

OAKLAND, Nov. 10. (UP)—Sunday afternoon's 100-mile classic at the Oakland Speedway marks the entry of a new pilot in the Class A competition. His name is Harris Insinger and he is piloting Walt Harris' Lion Head special, the car in which the late Bryan Ashpouch established the first one-mile American dirt track record on the Oakland speedway.

Insinger's entry on this fast job comes as a last minute change on the part of its owner, Walt Harris. George Connors was originally scheduled to tool it here Sunday but Connors wrecked it two weeks ago at the Lection Ascent Speedway in Los Angeles. The amount is a tricky one and apparently Harris felt that Insinger would do a better job than Connors.

To date ten entries have been received for the 100-mile battle. These include Ernie Triplett, Insinger, Chet Gardner, Al Gordon, Kelly Peltello, Sam Palmer, Guy Deulen, McKenally, Rex Mays and Carl Ryder.

Sunday seven events complete the speed program including time trial, four 5-mile races, a 15-mile event and the 100-mile classic.

IGKES HALTS ALLOTMENTS FOR OREGON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—UP—Public Works Administrator Ickes said tonight all Oregon projects would be held up until projects of states which have not received large allotments are considered.

"Oregon has participated so bounteously in public works funds that we are suspending judgment on projects from that state until the projects of other states have received our consideration."

Ickes' announcement came after a conference with Representative Martin, who has been urging allotment of additional funds for Oregon projects.

Martin told the United Press that Ickes had said Oregon had received 33 percent more public works money than it was entitled to and that there had been several complaints from the eastern section of the country that the Pacific Coast was getting more than its share of public works funds.

"I told Ickes," Martin said, "that Oregon certainly wasn't getting more than its share. This whole thing started on May 8 when the rivers and harbors committee of the House prepared a rivers and harbors bill and took it to President Roosevelt."

"The President told us he did not think Congress should stay in session long enough to pass the bill. He told us to prepare the bill and he would include it in the public works program."

"Included in that bill were two projects in which I am interested. One would relieve the City of Portland of maintenance of the Willamette river. Army engineers say Portland already has spent $13,000,000 for that purpose and that it is unjust to expect the port to provide further maintenance. The other project is a channel 150 feet wide and 5 feet deep along a 113 mile stretch of the Columbia river. That called for a $400,000 appropriation."

"When I mentioned these two projects to Ickes he told me the whole rivers and harbors bill was full of pork barrel projects and that anyway the Pacific coast and Oregon had had more than its share of public works money."

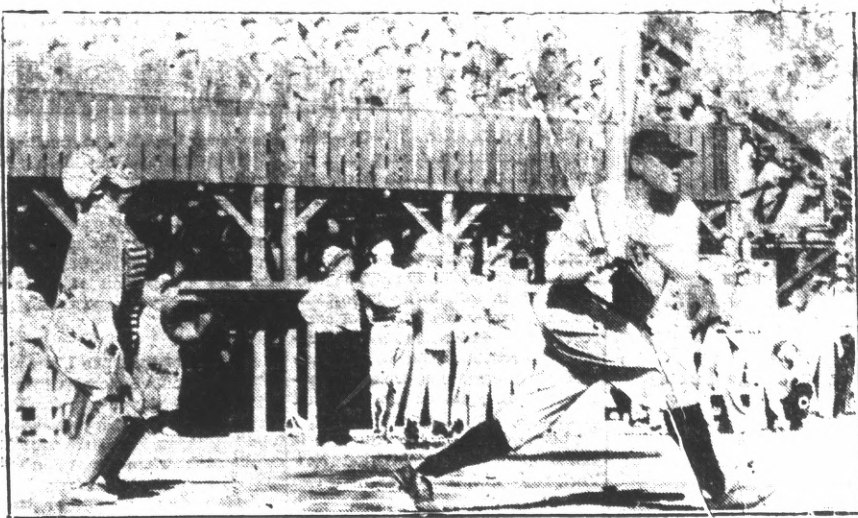

"I don't see that there is anything more we can do about it."

Supervisor Uhl is Sued for $250,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—UP—A $250,000 libel suit was filed today against Adolph Uhl, who was elected to the board of supervisors here Tuesday. John H. Thieler, city treasurer 1926-1929, was plaintiff.

The complaint charged Uhl with publishing on a list of "Adolph Uhl's major accomplishments," the assertion "removal of a city treasurer for dishonest practices in his official character as treasurer. Thieler, who resigned in 1929, said the statement referred to him."

chief clerk of the Labor Department. He is being retained by Madame Perkins. Not many people know it, but Sec. Hull, when a member of Congress during the Wilson administration, wrote the first income tax ever to become the law of the United States. He was denounced as a Bolshevik, and today takes pride in that denunciation.

Secretary Hull also served as a captain in the 11th Tennessee Infantry during the Spanish American war. His father, William, had served in the Confederate army and was taken prisoner. While held in Ohio, a Yankee prison guard, either drunk or criminally insane, blinded one eye with a bayonet. The older Hull returned to Tennessee, filed the suit, saved his money, got enough to travel, traced the Yankee guard to Indiana and shot him. The wails of one notorious Washington speaker are adorned with caricatures of noted city leaders. Since the advent of beer this particular operator runs four "speaks" instead of two and has cut prices to meet "legitimate" competition.

If Huey Long's battle for the redistribution of wealth were won, the people of his state—Louisiana—would have $1,622 apiece, while the average for the people of the United States as a whole would be $2,677 each. Senate Investigator Pecora has gone into the affairs of several directors of the Chase National Bank, but has glossed over Vincent Astor's connection.

RESHUFFLING THE R. F. C.

Administration insiders say that the R. F. C. is due for a complete reshuffling when its act expires next February. The President has in mind not only extensive rewriting of the law, but liberalizing its present predominantly conservative executive personnel. One of the directors whispered certain to go is Arkansas' water power and railroad magnate, Harvey Couch appointed to the body by President Hoover.

If some of the Brain Trusters have their way, Jesse Jones, ubiquitous chairman, will also be reshuffled. Secretary Ickes' sharp public rebuke to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury "Chick" Robinson for the latter's statement that federal funds would not be used to finance municipal power plants, is not the end of that incident. Ickes, a staunch advocate of the development of publicly owned utilities, has taken the issue squarely to the President, being assured of his full backing.

When Senator John G. Townsend, Delaware's Republican member on the Senate bank investigating committee, heard that Dillon, Read & Company had summoned Washington reporters to a "press conference" and offered them liquid refreshments, he promptly gave a "party" in his office, serving apples and cider from his own orchards.

FRIENDS

General Hugh Johnson and Edsel Ford are good friends despite the warring between the Recovery administrator and Edsel's father. It is an open secret in the Ford organization that if the son had his way the company would be under the Blue Eagle wings. The Johnson-Henry Ford feud goes back to war days, when the former was directing the administration of the Selective Service Act and Ford was resisting Edsel's induction into the army.

President Roosevelt's latest economic authority is youthful Winfield W. Riedler, Federal Reserve expert—F. D. R. calls him an "interpreting economist." When Richard Whitney, head of the New York Stock Exchange, had his recent conference with Roosevelt the two men addressed one another by their first names. But this did not prevent the President from expressing some very pointed and blunt criticisms about the management of the exchange.

The President has definitely determined to seek authority to license all stock and commodity exchanges at the coming session of Congress.

The Administration's gold manipulating operations have been an enormous boon to mining concerns. During the past few weeks the daily statements of the Federal Trade Commission listing new registrations under the Securities Act have unfailingly included several mining enterprises.

The promoters seem to have trouble devising alluring names for their companies. "One of the new concerns registered under the title of 'Baron of Chicago'."

Senator William E. Borah will return to the Capitol around the 20th of November. He was all set to come on the first, but Idaho farm leaders insisted that he address the annual meeting of the State Grange on the 15th.

So Borah unpacked his trunk, cancelled his railroad reservation, and stayed on a few weeks longer. Lastmaster General Jim Farley is passing the word among Democratic members of Congress that all their patronage claims will be taken care of before the next session convenes.

Between Winthrop W. Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank, and Albert H. Wiggin, his predecessor, there is only the coldest relations in their contacts before the Senate bank investigating committee. They sit widely apart, carefully avoid encountering one another. The Emergency Relief Administration plans to distribute 300,000,000 pounds of cured hog products to the unemployed this winter, the equivalent of about 3,000,000 live hogs.

JURY CHOSEN FOR TRIAL OF TUOHY GANG

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 10.—UP—The trial of four Tuohy gangsters on charges of kidnaping William Hamm, Jr., opened in a heavily jammed courtroom today with Hamm, a wealthy brewer, as the first witness.

The trial marked the second major attempt of the government to break up and convict a gang of criminals under the so-called "Lindbergh kidnaping" law which makes it a federal offense to take a kidnapping victim from one state to another.

Hamm went to the witness stand at 3:35 p. m. and told his story of how he was kidnaped last summer and held for $100,000 ransom. The wealthy, handsome young brewer walked to the stand from the second to last row of the courtroom, where he had sat during selection of the jury of 10 men and two women.

Shortly after he went to the stand Hamm positively identified one of the defendants, Eddie McFadden, as one of two men who abducted him near the Hamm brewery last June 15. When asked to do so, Hamm stepped from the witness box and pointed at McFadden as the kidnaper.

While the trial was based specifically on the Hamm case, prosecutors made it clear in opening statement that they planned to prove that Roger Tuohy and his gang were as active in the kidnaping racket as the Kelly-Bailey gang which recently was broken up in the southwest.

Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney general, who successfully directed prosecution of the Kelly-Bailey gang in Oklahoma, listened intently as District Attorney George F. Sullivan made the government's opening statement to the jury of 10 men and two women, then questioned Hamm.

Tuohy, son of a Chicago policeman who died of grief because his son became a gangster, conferred frequently and nervously with his attorneys, William Scott, Stewart and Thomas McMeekin, during questioning of the jurors. On trial with him are Willie Sharkey, Gus Schaeffer and Eddie McFadden, who tried to appear indifferent.

The trial opened in a heavily guarded courtroom.

The jury, selected after two days of questioning, was comprised of two housewives, six farmers, a grain dealer, a hardware merchant, a blacksmith and a railway employee. Two alternate jurors selected are both farmers.

P T A Fathers Program to be Next Monday

Rodeo grammar school Parent-Teachers association have arranged to present a program of interest and entertainment in honor of fathers of the students, on Monday night, November 13, at the school home. The program starts at 8, with Mrs. A. E. McKean, president of the Parents-Teachers association presiding.

The program chairman, Mrs. William Stevenson, has arranged to have as guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. Chief C. E. Osterman of Napa, who will talk on "Safety in the Home." Other numbers and selections of entertainment will be presented by the pupils to round out an evening of enjoyment for all.

December 10 is the next regular meeting date of the Parent-Teachers association at the school at 2:00 in the afternoon. Parents are urged to attend and take active part in these meetings and remember that mothers with small children may come and enjoy the programs and talks and the youngsters will be entertained in the kindergarten room during the session, by a capable mother appointed each meeting for that purpose.

CARDS, BEARS TO FACE TESTS IN BIG GAMES

More than 150,000 rabid, roaring Pacific Coast football fans today will watch California and Stanford play as underdogs in their games today.

At Los Angeles the red-jacketed Cardinals will go up against Howard Jones' highly touted, undefeated University of Southern California football squad. "Smart" money is betting three to one that the Trojans come through with a victory.

Fresh from their victory over Stanford several weeks ago, the Washington Huskies come to Berkeley today where they will tackle the California eleven, which is still smarting from a scoreless tie handed it by UCLA last Saturday.

At Los Angeles the weatherman reported that it will be an unusually warm today. And football players declare he doesn't know the half of it.

It is going to be a hot battle for both squads—with Bob Grayson and Bobby Hamilton of the Cards opposing Homer Griffith and Irvine Warburton of the Trojans.

Although Stanford was speeded Stanford has not been a good losing threat. The Trojans have been a stronger hitting team in the air and their speed whitewash Warburton and Griffith to lead them, is more impressive than Stanford's.

At Berkeley, the Washington Huskies are confident of a victory, they declared upon arrival at Berkeley last night.

"We're going to take California into camp, and then Trojans look out for us!"

That was the general opinion of the Northerners as they looked over the scene of today's contest.

The Bears are in a bad slump and have been for several weeks. However, California fans are hoping that today will see the appearance of a warm sun that will turn down as "upsets" when the final scores are posted.

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Karin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks murky, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels and a mere movement down the gut at the expense of the blood. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You often break out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is diseased.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Don't ask for "Laxative Pills." Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the same! (Laxative Pills are not the same!)

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT

By DON O'MALLEY

over have been puzzled these past few weeks by the presence of a highly polished and white-washed wine, which has been flagrantly featuring California wines "for sacramental purposes only." The tiny store, which flirts an important-looking government license of some sort in the window, has been carrying on a roaring trade without any sort of interference from the authorities, in spite of the fact that technically New York is still dry.

The lockdown on the situation is amusing. During prohibition New York rabbis have been allowed two gallons of wine per year for each member of their congregation. The government sold the wine and the rabbi distributed it. Now, however, with French, Italian and Spanish wines en route to America, the government has permitted stores such as this and sacramental wine, which is to be used for California wine.

He jumped on imported products. The clerk behind the counter simply asks the customer to write his name on the important-looking register before dealing with the wine and with. We caught the wink and flashed "Jacob Schwartz."

California wine producers are already losing stores in the downtown sector with one purpose in view: to capture public favor. The government is saving them every brass possible, hoping that to a certain extent we will send the stolen stuff and favor the home industry.

Locker-Room Strategy

Last week's popular "Ship" Madison, St. Mary's football coach gave us an inside story on the tactics employed by his late boss, Knute Rockne, when Knute wanted to get the most out of his men.

"He was a wise old guy," laughed the genial Madison, who is as Irish as the end on the corner, "and he had one system which never failed to send a player out on the field determined to win. Rock would read the sporting sections religiously, clipping out every paragraph which had to do with his own boys. The morning of the big game he'd carry the clippings down to the locker room and paste them on the lockers."

"When Joe Donkos, right end, would report for duty that afternoon, he would make for his locker and find posted on the door a newspaper story says, Joe Donkos might be a swell football player if he could learn to drive in faster when the ball is snapped. He trips over his own knees frequently and shows considerable difficulty getting off. Occasionally when he

CHAPTER XIV

While the late president of the Perfect Vacuum Cleaner Corporation took a forced sail down New York harbor that pleasant afternoon, Jim and Mary, Bob and Flora, hurried from the pier, hopped into a taxi, and rushed back to the City Hall.

They had no doubt that the mayor would have returned from lunch and would be prepared to discuss the matter. They waited in the corridor outside his office while Jim went in to announce their presence as he had on the last trip. And precisely as before, he reappeared a few minutes later, looking very much perturbed.

"What's the matter now?" Bob groaned.

"It's a calamity! The mayor's been back and his gone home!"

Bob stared and stared and then down the corridor.

"It's an outrage!" he fumed. "A man can't even get married when he wants to in this city!"

Meanwhile Jim was thinking hard.

"Bob, I'll get the mayor on the telephone and see what I can do," he said. "He's got to marry you today, that's all! It's a real emergency. I'll try to make him realize that it's today or never."

HE hurried away in search of a telephone, and was gone for some little time. At last he returned.

"Bob the mayor simply refuses to come back here, because he's going away for the week-end."

"Can't we hop up to his home?"

"That's out, too. I'm afraid. He says he's leaving the house in ten minutes. There's only one way, as I see it, to do this thing."

"What's that?"

"Well, I got him to agree to tie the knot over the telephone. Sort of appealed to his sense of humor, it seemed."

Over the telephone! Great Scott, man!

"Why not? It would be just as binding. He says there are four extension lines in his private office here. The secretary can have them each of us will get on a line. And his secretary will give you the marriage certificate."

They did. A short time later, Bob and Flora, securely married, emerged triumphant from the City Hall.

BOB turned to Jim. "Old man," he said, "you've certainly done your best for me today, and I appreciate it. Now wait till you see what I'm going to do for you! I'm going to stage a wedding supper going to stage the world set up and take notice. We'll take over the Crazy Club, get the bunch down, and organize one of those love-love societies then and there!"

"It's an awful risk you're taking," Mary said.

"Oh, well, New York has changed me. I'm beginning to like risks. A little excitement sort of pep me up!"

TRUCKMEN ARE ASKING FOR A REHEARING

Claiming that a decision of the Railroad Commission allowing railroads to cut their tariffs on oil transportation below those of tank truck concerns will result in 1800 men being thrown out of employment, tank truck operators yesterday had placed before George Creel, regional NRA administrator, an appeal to intervene in the battle between railroads and the trucking interests.

The NRA is asked to petition the commission for a rehearing and for an investigation of the reasonableness of all gasoline and oil rates.

The commission's decision, rendered by a 3 to 2 vote, becomes effective next Thursday. Truck men contend that they cannot meet the reduced rates allowed the railroads and that unless the ruling is reversed 1800 men will be thrown out of employment.

It was announced that the commission will sit Monday to hear arguments on a petition for a rehearing.

The truck tank operators declare that the rates granted railroads will drive them out of competition, claiming that the tariffs allowed are from 30 to 50 percent below present rates.

Jim and Mary Tibbett, just married, arrive in New York, where Jim, a young vacuum salesman, has been transferred to take a job in the company's main office. They meet Bob Hawkins, son of the company's president, and Flora Hanna, a chorus girl. Bob and Flora suddenly decide to get married, but Bob's parents try to forestall the wedding. Jim, to aid the eloping couple, risks his job by luring Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins aboard an ocean liner on the pretense that Bob and Flora are sailing on it. Just as the vessel gets under way, with the elder Hawkins aboard, the elopers appear on the deck and gaily wave to them.

AIRLINER CRASH WAS DUE TO FOG

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—UP—Fog was blamed today for the wreck of a United Airlines plane which killed four persons and injured five in the hills a mile and a half from Portland's municipal airport late last night. The plane burned.

The airliner crashed before midnight but it was not until after 1 a.m. that H. B. Woodworth of Oakland, Cal., co-pilot, suffering from a broken nose, broken ribs and burns, reached a telephone to report the accident.

Those killed were Dr. Robert Coffey of Portland, internationally famed surgeon; William A. Trotter of Chicago; Herman Cohn of Portland, and Al Davis of Seattle, pilot.

The injured, all of whom will recover, were M. E. J. Powers of Glendale, Calif., bruised and burned; Robert Pelotze of Portland, fractured kneecap; Dr. John Straumjerd of Portland, assistant to Dr. Coffey, bruised; and Floyd Hart of Medford, Ore., injured hand, and Woodworth.

Miss Libby Wargatt, of Oakland, stewardess, was only slightly bruised. Her hair was singed as she helped Woodworth pull passengers from the blazing wreckage. Undaunted by her experience, she flew to Oakland tonight and said she would return to work "as soon as I can get cleaned up."

The meeting was in general charge of T. Emmett Ward, president of the Richmond club, who turned it over to Henry A. Johnston, chairman of the program committee and a director of the East Bay Municipal Utility District from Richmond.

It was shown that this is the place where water is received from the San Pablo reservoir after passing through the Alameda-Contra Costa hills in a three-mile tunnel; that it is aerated, chlorinated and filtered, and finally passed into the distribution mains for consumption by the public. All water served to the Richmond area is handled at this filter plant when the full system is in operation.

CONS NABBED IN HOLDUP OF S. F. BANK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—UP—Two former Colorado convicts were held in jail here tonight after an unsuccessful attempt to hold up an American Trust company branch bank at Filbert and California streets.

The suspects were identified as Ross McNeill, 34, alias Maxwell, and Thomas Coleman, 38, former inmates of the Colorado state prison at Canon city. Police said Coleman escaped from prison.

The pair allegedly confessed to police they had perpetrated eight recent holdups in San Francisco.

Miss Dora Young, bank stenographer, risked drawing gunfire from the pair when she stepped on a new "silent" alarm button as the bandits directed her, Assistant Manager J. O. Elmer and four customers into a room.

Radio patrol cars rushed to the bank from all points in the city. As the pair left the bank with $2000 in currency they got from Feller E. K. Salbach, Officers Floyd Kelly and F. Murphy arrived. The men surrendered as they were about to duck into a small coupe, registered to Clarence Smith of Reno, and believed to have been stolen.

Police later arrested five asserted friends of McNeill and Coleman for investigation. They are Walter Dunham, 32; Wade Johnson, 26; Ray Nicholson, 27; Louis Tesler, 34; and James L. Perry, 37.

were inclined to doubt one officer's theory that Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, southwest desperado reported in California on numerous occasions recently, had a hand in the seizure.

"I have a feeling that this is a real kidnapping," said Chief of Police Black, "but I am inclined to doubt if a Chicago gang or other easterners had a hand in it. It is my present opinion that persons in this vicinity were responsible."

Sheriff Emig concurred in this opinion.

Mysterious Telephone

Investigators regarded a telephone call to Alex Hart, father of the missing youth, as something of a "red herring" across the trail. The call was made from a San Francisco hotel, but could not be traced additionally. The unidentified man demanded $40,000 ransom and warned: "Don't get in touch with police or you will never see your son again."

Department of Justice agents led by Reed C. Vetterli, believed that Hart was not held in San Francisco.

Despite the theory, a number of places in San Francisco were under surveillance. Activity there was spurred when a man whose identity was closely guarded was questioned at length by Department of Justice agents.

Time of Crime

The time of Hart's seizure was narrowed to between 5:55 and 6:20 p.m. yesterday by information given by a ranch woman on the Evans road near Milpitas, where Hart's automobile was found. She said she had looked out her window at the earlier time and had seen no car. When she looked at 6:20 the car was parked there.

Young Hart was enroute to join his father at a country club when he dropped from sight. Police worked in secret when notified, but today Department of Justice agents broadcast a complete description of the missing youth.

Mother Refuses To See Deserted Tots

OAKLAND, Nov. 10.—UP—

"I don't want to see my babies again," sobbed Mrs. Mildred Pounds, 25, in her jail cell here tonight. She is charged with deserting her children.

Ida, 5, and Mary Lou, 3, in an apartment house here October 17.

She was arraigned today and preliminary examination set for November 22. Weeping, she was led back to jail.

"It's a shame to try to bring them up in the company I keep and the way I act," she cried. "I've been trying to work, whenever I could get a job, but I couldn't make any money. I go off on parties and my babies suffer for it."

"It's better for them to be brought up in an institution, where they'll have nourishment and care and education. They'll be better off."

Police alleged she said she left the children "after a five days party" and hitch-hiked to Oregon and back.

"My husband won't ever come back to me," she sobbed. "I sent him pictures of the babies but he returned them. I want to hear from the babies, and know how they are getting along, but I don't want to see them again."

Columbia, outside Havana, where the court martial were ordered held. The list included soldiers, civilians and police. Seventeen Spaniards were listed and the one American.

The Spanish Ambassador Lopez Ferrer, visited President Grau and asked that "for humanity's sake" there be no executions of civilian prisoners.

City Uneasy

The city remained uneasy as sporadic firing continued during the day. Snipers were reported to have killed three more soldiers.

The government advised all citizens to remain off the street as far as possible, to permit a cleanup of the rebels and snipers.

The tanks and some stores reopened during the day, but little business was done. The capital remained under a "state of siege."

Police Disbanded

The police, who participated en masse in the revolt, were disbanded and the patrolmen replaced by members of the "law and justice army" dressed in khaki slacks and blue shirts. They were armed with old rifles.

At Santa Clara, to the east of Havana, Lieutenant Alberto Gomez with a Loyal cavalry squadron and two machine guns details reconquered the towns of Cabanien and Remedios without firing a shot. The government claimed the rebellion had been quelled throughout the country and that the island was calm.

two months and in the interim, the lease will continue in operation, it was stated.

At yesterday's concluding session, Fred D. Parr head of the Parr Richmond corporation, was on the stand all morning and a good part of the afternoon. Parr defended leasing of the wharves to the Shippers, declaring that loss of traffic at Wharf No. 1 has made it possible to use Terminal No. 3 for leasing.

Tom Goodrich, of the Parr office, was called to the stand and he substantiated Parr's statements.

Opposition to the lease was expressed by H. E. Von Horne of the Encinal Terminal corporation and by G. B. Hegardt, of the Oakland Port commission.

Both declared that the action of the Parr corporation set a very bad precedent in the bay region.

Thomas M. Carlson, local attorney, was present yesterday representing the city of Richmond. E. H. Bull, local business man, was also an interested spectator.

WHAT are the PURCHASING AGENTS DOING?

EVERY big company has one or more men whose entire time is devoted to buying the things which that company needs.

These men are specialists. It is their business to know prices . . . materials . . . sources of supply . . . present and future trends. They are the shrewdest, canniest buyers in the world.

But ALL of us, in a small way, are purchasing agents. We HAVE to buy a certain number of things, if only to keep alive. And most of us aren't very skillful at it. We waste a lot of money. We miss the good bargains. In fact, we could learn a great deal by watching a professional buyer at his work.

At this time, especially, it may be helpful to know what the big purchasing agents are doing. Are they cutting down? Are they opening up? Do they think this is a good time to buy or a bad time? What do they think about the future?

Well, the answer is that they are all buying as fast as they can buy.

And they are buying because THEY KNOW THAT PRICES ARE GOING UP.

"Pig iron has advanced 13 percent", the purchasing agent of a $20,000,000 corporation recently said. "Brass is up 42½ percent. I am paying 41 percent more for lumber than I did in March, and fiber packing cases have doubled in price. In fact, everything we use in this business is costing us more today, and will in my opinion cost us still more tomorrow. I believe . . . that many commodities will be back to or near 1929 levels by spring."

That's the way the professional purchasing agents feel about it. And they KNOW. They have special sources of information. They are closely in touch with industry. They have studied the workings of the NRA codes.

PRICES ARE GOING UP. And it's a good thing for everyone. For things had come to the point where NOTHING had any true value. A man's time . . . his product . . .

his property . . . all had sunk so low in value that he couldn't even get a decent living.

That couldn't go on. So the Government set up the machinery of the NRA codes in order to MAKE EVERYTHING WORTH SOMETHING AGAIN.

This process is now under way. Wages are being raised. Commodities are bringing better prices every day. But it is not yet over. Before fair values . . . living values . . . can be reached, prices will have to go higher than they are now.

Before they do, take a leaf from the purchasing agent's book, and lay in a supply of the things you need. There are many good bargains still to be had. But these stocks are strictly limited. NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.

Upturn Item

Pig-iron production, between August 1932 and August 1933, increased 245 percent.
